

Says Americas Led World In Peaceful Dispute Settlement

COOLIDGE ADDRESS OPENS CONFERENCE

Principles of Arbitration Used as Far Back as 1822

20 COUNTRIES ATTEND

Early Efforts Made Part of World Program, Delegates Hear

Washington, Dec. 10.—The American led the world as far back as 1822 in undertaking to settle international disputes by peaceful means, when the principles of arbitration and conciliation were practically unknown in the rest of the world. President Coolidge told delegates opening the Inter-American conference on arbitration and conciliation here today. Declaring that the countries of South America led all the world in their contribution to the cause, President Coolidge pointed to the treaties of 1822 of Greater Colombia with Peru and Chile, and with Mexico in 1825, followed by a treaty with Central America in 1825, as forerunners of efforts that many years later were to be made part of a world program for peace, through conciliation and arbitration.

Stirs Pride

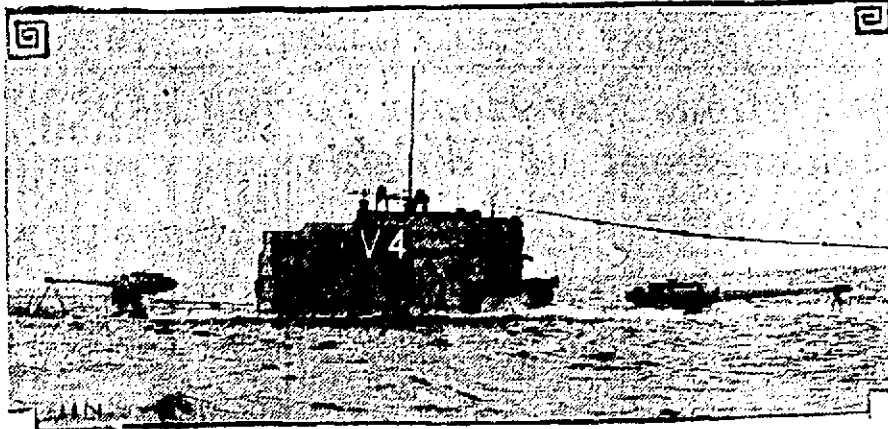

"It is a record to stir the pride of all those who love peace and justice," he said. "The president recalled that the United States had contributed to the 'furnishing' of these great principles as early as 1794 in negotiating the Jay treaty with Great Britain. It then became the privilege of the United States, he said, to introduce into modern diplomacy the principle of arbitration, and the last three years have been a period of a century and a half, supported by sister republics in upholding the cause."

Some of the other early treaties the president cited were the congress of Lima, Peru, of 1817, of Santiago, Chile, of 1826, of Lima in 1861, Caracas, Venezuela, and the series of international conferences of American states beginning with the conference of Washington in 1859, and including the Havana congress of last January, of which the present meeting is the offspring.

Delicate Questions Exist

"It is a mistake to suppose," President Coolidge said, "that it was much easier to adopt conciliation and arbitration on the American continent because of the absence of any outstanding inter-American disputes."

This remarkable picture was made just before the submarine V-4, Uncle Sam's largest under-sea craft, of Portsmouth, N. H. Notice the big guns on her deck. If Portsmouth, N. H. Notice the big guns on her deck for surface warfare.

The history of this continent discloses the presence of us largely a number of difficult and delicate questions as in any other section of the world. The uncertainty of the boundaries of the American states after their successive declarations of independence from Spain and Portugal gave rise to a large number of territorial disputes which belong to the class usual by arousing the most deeply rooted national feeling. "The fact that most of these have been settled by direct negotiation, conciliation, and arbitration will forever be one of the glories of the American as well as a constant reminder that the nations of this continent have dedicated themselves to the ideals of peace and are willing to exercise the self control and make the sacrifices which the maintenance of these ideals impose."

ATTORNEYS ELECT LIBRARY OFFICERS

Trustees elected were John H. Bartram, for three years, J. D. Williamson, two years, and Howard Guthrie, one year. Russell Wilhelm, Theodore R. Oels and Howard Guthrie were named on a committee to assist in recataloging the library.

CONGRESS SET FOR
SESSION MARCH 25Tariff Revision and Farm Relief
Loom Against 1929
Horizon

Washington, Dec. 10.—With tariff revision and farm relief looming on the horizon, congressmen today were preparing for a special session of the new congress to convene about March 25.

The revision of the tariff and farm relief bills will be the main business of the session. The tariff committee is expected to report on the tariff revision bill by the end of the year. The farm relief bill is expected to be reported by the committee on agriculture.

FORD
Tubular Radiators
MALO BROS.

Committee will consider revision of rates during the second week of January and will reach administrative decisions toward the middle of February. It probably will take another month after the hearings were concluded before the committee could report a completed bill to the house.

Meet in Rotunda
This schedule would postpone the convening of the special session to probably the last week of March. This would meet the approval of senate leaders too since there is a likelihood that the upper branch will hold its session in the rotunda of the capitol, while the old chamber is renovated. It probably would take employees two or three weeks to prepare the rotunda for senatorial sessions and work could not be started until after the inaugural ceremonies on March 4.

The farm relief situation will be much simpler. Early in the new year, both the senate and house agricultural committees will meet to consider farm relief proposals. There may be more public hearings, although many senators and representatives believe there should be action without the delay of hearings. In either event, both committees probably will be able to report farm measures as soon as the new session meets.

Hoover Drafted Bill
There has been a disposition among Republican leaders, especially those from the west, including the insurance, to have President Hoover personally draft a farm bill. There will be an opportunity through for Hoover to make known his wishes, as soon as he returns from his South American cruise in January. This would give the congressional farm relief experts a month or two in which to prepare and agree upon the necessary legislative program.

At present, the indications are that only farm relief and tariff will be considered at the special session. The leaders on Capitol Hill naturally will seek to retain this limit, chiefly in order to avoid an all summer session.

With the enactment of both bills expedited, leaders now believe they can meet late in March and adjourn in June—thus escaping the heat of a Washington summer.

Whatever is the shabbiest feature of a town, visitors are almost sure to see it.

MOVES TO SETTLE
PLANE CONTROVERSY

South Carolinian Wants Congress To Look into Wright Matter

Washington, Dec. 10.—Legislation designed to settle the controversy over the true inventor of the first successful airplane will be pushed in this session of congress, Rep. John J. McSwain, Democrat, of South Carolina, a member of the military affairs committee, announced today.

Although McSwain believes that Wilbur and Orville Wright, and not Samuel Langley, deserve the honor, he said that he wants to settle the matter through an unbiased board of experts.

A bill introduced by him and passed by the house directs the president to name a commission of distinguished citizens to make a complete investigation and report. He plans to lobby for passage of the bill in the senate.

May Become Acute
The controversy, which resulted in Orville Wright sending the first Wright brothers heavier-than-air machine to the British museum, promises to become acutely acute with the approach of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the flight at Kitty Hawk, N. C., Dec. 17, 1908.

The intention of the International Aeronautics conference, which convenes here soon, is to honor Orville Wright, will bring the subject before experts.

A further proposal by Representative James H. Thompson, of Michigan, to award the distinguished flying cross to Orville Wright by direction of congress may precipitate new arguments.

"Widespread discussion in the last year has served to clear the atmosphere a great deal, but I think it is very important that congress pass a law in permit naming of a board of distinguished citizens to review the whole matter," said McSwain.

Result of Markings
"I regard statements emanating from the Smithsonian Institution as indicating that progress has been made. It was in fact conceded by authorities of the institution in hearings before our committee that the credit belongs to the Wrights. The regents of the institution have no objection to my bill."

The controversy arose over markings placed in the original Langley plane in the Smithsonian Institution. Orville Wright charged that because Langley had been a secretary of the institution, the markings were biased. As a result he sent his plane to the British museum. He has remained at his research work in Dayton, Ohio, without injecting himself into the controversy in congress.

A bill was introduced by the house today to send a congressional delegation to Kitty Hawk, N. C., for the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Wright flight. Congress previously had authorized erection of a monument there.

It is the contention of Wright adherents that while both the Langley and Wright planes were exhibited in 1903, the Langley plane failed to fly.

Some are always demanding the best, and some others are satisfied well enough if they don't get the worst.

MINIMUM STRENGTH OF 92,186 ASKED

Bureau of Navigation Chief Makes Recommendation
to Congress

Washington, Dec. 10.—A minimum enlisted strength of 92,186 for the navy in 1935 was recommended today by Rear Admiral H. H. Leigh, chief of the bureau of navigation, in his annual report.

Up to this number there he added the men required under the nucleus crew system, Leigh said, "92,285 men should be in service in 1935."

The minimum figures are based on a 97 per cent allowance for battleships and a 90 per cent allowance for destroyers, Leigh said.

Enlisted Strength

The authorized enlisted strength in 1923 was 80,000 and 83,250 in 1925, while the estimates for 1929, provide for 84,000 men.

Leigh called attention to the increased demand for officers and enlisted men for aviation.

"With new ships approaching completion and commissioning," he said, "and with further expansion in prospect in the air arm of the Navy, the time has come when provision must be made for an increase in the total personnel of the combatant force."

He recommended, in order to supply the shortage of officers, that the number of appointments to the Naval Academy be increased now to five for each senator and congressman "since the addition of approximately 75 graduates to the line each year, that such an increase would provide, could not become effective until 1935."

Large New Measure

The navy's bureau chief recommended the enactment by congress of three new measures at the next session, dealing with pay of officers, promotion and distribution of line officers, and the compulsory retirement of staff officers not selected for promotion. Leigh also urged the repeal of the law which prohibits the employment of retired officers by companies furnishing supplies to the navy. He said:

"Officers retired in the lower grades for physical disabilities receive but little retired pay, and it is necessary for them to seek such civilian employment as is not incompatible with their disabilities. The wide activity of the navy, to the matter of supplies and services, covers practically the entire private productive industry of the country, and under the law retired officers are denied employment, even in a minor capacity, in so organization doing business with the navy. To cut these retired officers off from such employment does not seem to be in any way in the interest of the government."

PLAN INSTALLATION Heidelberg Grange Members Arrange For Meeting in Two Weeks

Plans were made for the installation of officers Dec. 21 at the meeting of members of Heidelberg Grange, 10545 held Friday night in the grange hall south of here. H. F. Kiley, post master, will preside as installing officer. Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Augustine were appointed to serve on the refreshments committee and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Allmendinger and Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Berlinger were named a committee to arrange for a treat for the children of the grange. A covered dish luncheon will be served by the ladies of the grange. During the lecture hour a discussion was held on the subject, "Curing and Canning of Meat."

AID MEETS

Spend Time Sewing And With Christmas Exchange

Green Camp, Dec. 10.—The Mt. Olive Ladies aid met with Mrs. J. H. Corbin, Wednesday. At the noon hour a cafeteria lunch was enjoyed by 15 members and the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Collier, Mrs. William Whitnack and Mrs. Samuel Berry, of Marion; Mrs. J. A. Dutton, of Lake; Mrs. Cecil Harper, Mrs. Roy Kautzer, Mrs. Sherman Imbody and Ruth Ellis Copley, of Green Camp. During a short business session Mrs. Henry Lauer and Mrs. Charles W. Wacker were appointed on the social committee for January. The place and date of meeting to be announced later. The ladies knotted comforters in the afternoon and also held their annual Christmas exchange.

PLEASANT RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Shoulders droop under weight of years. Young, yet beauty has fled. Cheeks are sallow and drawn. Unrightly plump. Keep your system clean and you keep the beauty of youth. Its energy. Its irresistible charm. This life is not a failure.

Clogged bowels and inactive liver cause poisons to creep through the system. Health vanishes, and with it beauty and energy. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets will save you from this dark hour. For 20 years they have been prescribed in place of calomel to men and women seeking health and freedom from constipation. They act easily and smoothly. No dangerous gripping. Take nightly before retiring. Results will amaze you.

Thousands of men and women would never be without Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. Know them by their olive color. 15c. 50c. 60c.—Ad.

Dependable Furniture Since 1866

MARION, OHIO

THE NEW FORD HAS A REMARKABLE

Value of simplicity of design shown daily in outstanding smoothness, acceleration, speed, power, reliability and economy. Low-priced car should not be complicated.

ENGINE

THE engine of the new Ford represents a new development in modern automobile engineering. It is unique in design and performance, giving unusual smoothness, acceleration, speed and power without sacrifice of reliability and economy.

Ford engineering has found the way to include every essential feature of good performance without the necessity of a high speed, complicated motor.

The design of the cylinder head is just one factor in this performance. Others are the direct gravity gasoline feed, the specially designed carburetor, the new hot-spot manifold, the carefully planned large valve diameter, the chrome silicon alloy valves, the aluminum pistons, the statically and dynamically balanced crankshaft and flywheel, and the simplicity of the electrical, ignition, cooling, lubrication and fuel systems.

Engine mounting reduces vibration

Of special importance is the manner in which engine vibration is absorbed before it reaches the chassis of the car, thereby preventing unpleasant vibration periods.

This is done in the new Ford through the introduction of a flexible front end support that is both simple and practical—a truly remarkable improvement in engine mounting developed after many months of testing and experimenting.

Quality of materials and careful workmanship also have a great deal to do with the continuously good performance of the new Ford.

In the new Ford, for instance, the diameter of the piston pin is held within three ten-thousandths (.0003) of an inch. An equally close limit is followed in the hole into which the piston pin is fitted.

The weight of the aluminum alloy pistons is set at 17½ ounces. No piston is permitted to come under this weight nor exceed it by more than 2 grams.

In the piston assemblies, consisting of piston, connecting rod, pin and spring retainer, the four assemblies in each motor must match in weight within a limit of 3½ grams. Every piston assembly must meet the weight of the other assemblies in the set within approximately ¼ of an ounce. Main and connecting rod bearings on crankshaft are held true to within three ten-thousandths (.0003) of an inch.

Unusual accuracy of manufacturing methods

It is of course almost impossible to conceive of measurements as close as these. They are achieved only through the finest precision gages in the hands of expert workmen. The master blocks by which these gages are set are accurate to the almost incredible limit of a millionth of an inch.

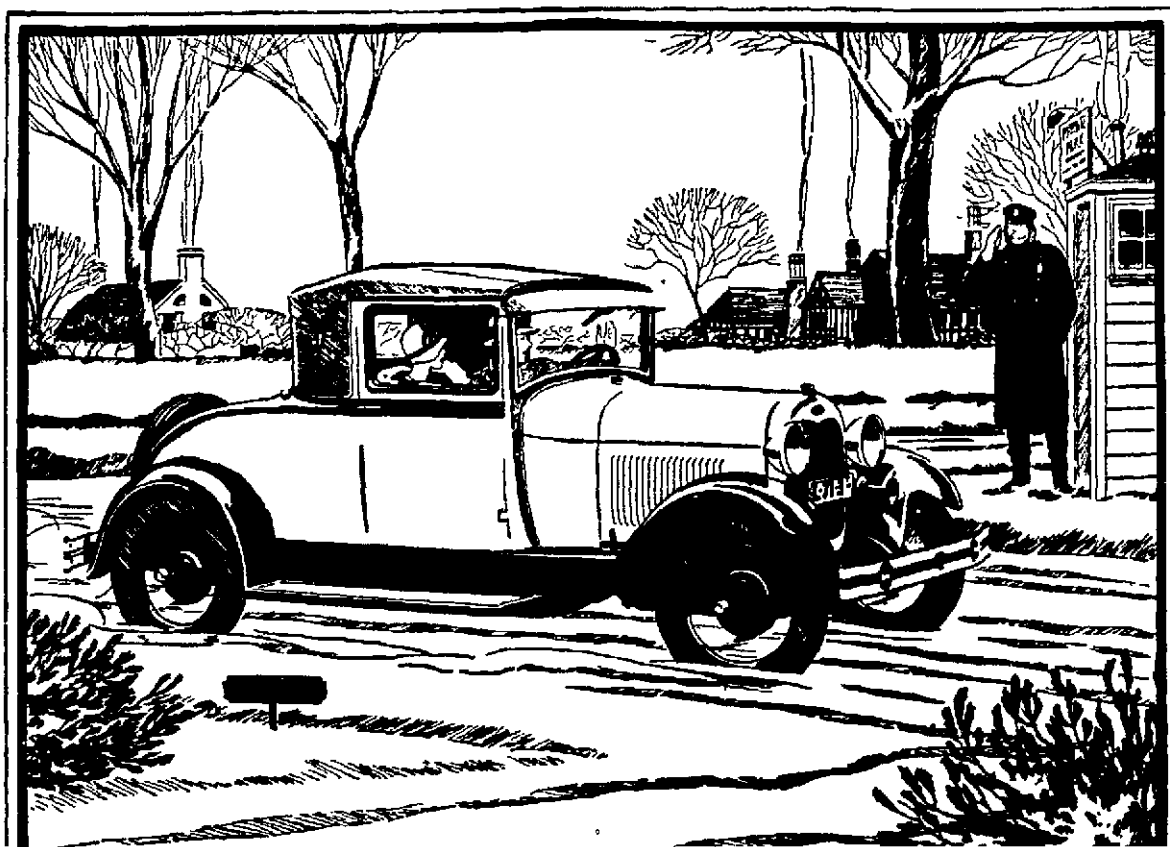

The new Ford is distinguished by the trim, graceful simplicity of its lines and the beauty of its colors. Without being extreme, it has struck a new note in automobile designing. Shown here is the new Sport Coupe—one of the most notable of the new Ford cars. Wide, comfortable

All of this care and accuracy is an indication of the fundamental thoroughness of Ford manufacturing methods. If a part should be made accurate to a limit of .0003 of an inch, it is made .0003 of an inch. Margin of profit is made secondary to service.

Deep-seated therefore is the quality of the new Ford. You can see but a part of it with your eyes. Beneath the hood are countless invisible values. Summed up, they count for more than any one spectacular feature.

Because of the value that is in it, the new Ford is more than just a new automobile. It is a part of the life, the progress and the prosperity of the country. Our policy has always been to see that you get the very best materials—the most careful workmanship—the soundest design that can be built into a low-priced automobile.

Today, more than ever, the new Ford is the fulfillment of that ideal.

Marion County's Flocks Doomed.
 For a number of years we have worried more than we heretofore have been willing to confess over the impending fate of the sheep-raising and wool-growing industry in Marion county. We have endeavored to maintain a spirit of optimism in the hope that something would develop to correct the situation, but our optimism can not longer avail
 to close our eyes to stern facts or overcome the inevitable logic of cold statistics. Try as we may, we can not escape the conviction that sheep-raising in Marion county is doomed.

We can recall a time when the raising of sheep was a county asset. No matter in what direction one might drive out from this city,
 he would see sheep grazing on hill and in dale. Flocks of sheep would be sighted here and there everywhere. Today, it is only occasionally that one beholds a flock of sheep.
 The great flocks have disappeared before the ruthless march of official inefficiency.

Back in the old days, of course, some flocks suffered from attacks by dogs, but the dogs of those days were not impressed by their own importance and what was expected of them as they are today. True, sheep were killed by dogs, but in spite of canine attacks
 and the diseases to which sheep are subject,
 the flocks flourished, and the sheep grew in aggregate volume.

Even in the old days dogs were expected to be returned for taxation, but it was the exceptional dog which was taxed. We aren't sure that County Auditor Earl E. Thomas didn't have a share in accounting the dwindle-ing of the flocks. In any event, the law said dogs must be licensed, and he got busy to see to it that they were. What's the result? By 1926 he had 2,315 male dogs and 299 female wearing tags and issued thirteen kennel licenses. In 1927 the number of licensed dogs increased to 3,152 males and 349 females, and twenty kennel owners were paying license fees. And then, and to relate,
 the general assembly passed the dog warden law—to save the flocks of Ohio. If our memory serves us correctly, it was in August of that year that our county warden was appointed at a salary of $1,200. Not only that, but a dog census was taken at a cost of something like $800. To make a long story short, licenses have been issued this year to 3,819 male dogs, 610 female and twenty-seven kennels.

And what, without considering the possible
 activities of dogs in the kennels, is the result, as shown by the county records?

With 2,611 dogs licensed in 1926 the sheep
 claims allowed and paid as the result of damage done by dogs to flocks amounted to $3,363.13.

With 3,432 dogs licensed in 1927, the sheep
 claims allowed and paid were $1,211.15.

With 4,159 dogs licensed this year, the sheep claims allowed up to November 30
 total $5,093.84.

How long can the sheep of Marion county withstand an ascending progression of destruction such as this? How many more up-to-snuff licensed dogs will it take to wipe out entirely what are left of the once mighty flocks of the county?

King George's Illness.

The somewhat more favorable bulletins
 which have come from Buckingham palace for the last day or two, have brought a measure of relief to an anxious world. Where-ever civilization obtains and even to lands in which it is but little advanced, there is fervent hope that the improvement in the condition of King George will continue until his complete recovery is accomplished.

There are heads of nations who might pass away and leave the world, save possibly the lands over which they rule, untroubled by feeling of deep regret, but not the British ruler.
 He has caught the heart not alone of Britain
 and her colonies, but also those of the people of all governments worthy the name. The feeling for him is not a tribute to his inheritance of royalty, but a tribute to the man himself, to the greatest democrat in lofty position of his line. He is a man of ability,
 a man of character, a kindly, generous man, whose private life, as well as his public, is without stain, above all reproach. He is straightforward, sincere and ever strong for the right. He is a man of simple tastes and democratic to a degree beyond the conception of one who has not seen him mingle among his people. It has been truthfully said of him that he has democratized the British throne.

Several years ago it was the good fortune
 of the writer to be in position to observe King George and his queen close at hand, since which time we have never wondered at the hold he has on the people of Great Britain.
 We were charmed by the simplicity of his manner and the freedom of the king and Queen Mary from all the ostentatiousness we,
 in our ignorance, had assumed to be the inevitable accompaniment of royalty. They go about, save when custom calls for show,
 with far greater freedom than our own presents, and they get pleasure, manifestly as sincere as it is unmistakable, from their mingling with the people.

A few days ago we came upon a newspaper story, which will give a further insight into the great popularity of King George. In the story Harry Shepherd, who grew up on one of the estates of the king and for five years served on it as head gamekeeper, but who is now farming up in Wisconsin, said this of him:

"He used to go and have tea with the old lady on the place two or three times a year.
 "He'll shake hands with a man in overalls.
 He's just like a common chap—a real democrat."

"He never turned out an employe even for being drunk all the time. If they got drunk so much they can't do their work, he penalized them."

"I went to get him at Sandrin's when I was over last year. He saw me when I was from here to that box car away, and he came straight over."

"Well, Harry, I'm glad to see you again."
 And he took my hand and arm, with his two hands—like this. "That makes a man feel good, you know."

Is it any wonder that such a man has the sympathy of his people, of all classes and degrees, in his illness? Is it any wonder that there is a feeling of relief over the recent favorable bulletins issued?

King George V is not great in physical stature, but he is great in heart and great in soul, great in his manliness and great in all the high qualities which go to make a real man among men.

In addition to $75,000 worth of liquors found aboard a French line steamship last week, coast guards the same day captured a former government submarine chaser off Long Island with 10,300 bottles of liquor and twenty-five barrels of hash aboard. Something of a contrast to the activities of the dry enforcement officers operating in and about Detroit.

The lower house of congress has appropriated $30,000,000 for dry law enforcement activities. As Commissioner Doran holds that it would take $300,000,000 annually to keep the country rightly dry, we assume, in the event that the senate supports the house
 figures, that we will have twelve per cent.
 enforcement.

The scientists now deny that this continent is leaning backward, having discovered that the pressure toward on both the Pacific and Atlantic coasts is alike. If the scientists are right, let's keep an eye on our mountains
 and watch them grow.

A despatch from Detroit says that an ex-
 inspector has finally barred the entire rum graft story in the federal grand jury up-there, implicating all but six of the 126 inspectors in the $2,000,000 rum scandal.
 Little wonder that the flood of Canadian liquor into this country remains unchecked.

On his arrival home, Sir Austen Chamberlain was loud in his praise of the California air and weather. No matter what course he may follow in British affairs so far as they relate to this country, Sir Austen is bound to have the moral support of all California.

"Bank Robbers Captured by Oklahoma Posse; Stolen Funds Regained," reads a headline. By the time a few more bandits have been shot up by Oklahoma posesses, the value of organization against crime may dawn on other states which could profitably use something of the kind in answer to the question:
 "What's the matter with the country?"

The head of an international ring of robbers who have been preying on Catholic churches in this country and Mexico has been arrested and gold chalices, gold candelabra, various jewels, altar cloths, vestments and carpets to the value of over $500,000 have been recovered. The stealing of the goods from the churches desecrated was easy, but the ring fell down when it endeavored to dispose of them. There has never yet been enough genius in the criminal world to enable crime to make adequate return.

"NOW, JOHN, KEEP YOUR SHIRT ON! I'M NOT GOING TO RULE THE SEAS AND NEITHER ARE YOU!"

Over-Fatigue Lessens Resistance.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
 Not long ago I read that fatigue does not increase susceptibility to illness. Experiments on rats made out of one of the great universities were said to show that, if anything, fatigue increases resistance to disease.

One swallow does not make a summer. It will take a lot more testimony to convince me that over-fatigue is not dangerous to human beings. I am not up on rats, except to say they are cleverer and smarter in some ways than men. They dodge traps and manage to survive when even an American Indian would be caught. I am prepared to believe that they can resist fatigue as a man can not.

I doubt if honest tiredness ever hurt anybody.
 Work is needed for every one. You will not thrive unless you use your muscles—all of them—and use them enough to provoke perspiration.

Any sort of muscular effort made in sports
 may do more harm than good. Spasmodic, struggling, exhausting efforts particularly if long continued, may injure the heart and cause real damage to that organ. On the other hand, regular, systematic, sustained exercise to the point of fatigue will do you good.

The other day I saw a woman close to seventy years of age who has rejuvenated herself and is keeping this second "youthfulness" by daily exercise to the music of a phonograph. She can skip and dance and float through the air as gracefully as any professional dancer you ever saw.

This woman had curvature of the spine in her youth. Instead of wearing a plaster cast or some steel-handled supporting device, she chose to find movements and exercises to develop the withered muscles and to strengthen her twisted back and shoulder. She has succeeded so well that little evidence remains of her early deformity.

Each of us should find some physical activity to keep fit. The laborer needs no addition to his daily toil, but everybody should exercise enough
 each day to be ready and lively.

To be tired is one thing and to be over-fatigued is another. Whether the over-fatigue is the result of long-continued and exhausting manual labor or whether it comes from mental labor, there can be no doubt that the lowered vitality leaves
 the body less able to resist disease invasion.

Science has made many tests to prove the effect of injury upon the body. For instance, if a given part of the body of a rabbit is crushed and then the rabbit is injected with the germ of tuberculosis,
 the injured portion will be the part first involved
 by the germ action.

It stands to reason that those persons who are weakened by over-fatigue or otherwise will be the first to suffer when epidemics sweep the earth.

But whether our defense resistance is or is not lowered by over-fatigue, we do know that our efficiency is impaired by it. Quantity production in any factory is increased by having regular intervals of rest and refreshment.

The records of every industrial plant show that the very great majority of accidents happen late in the day when fatigue has lessened alertness and physical power.

We will watch the experiments on fatigue with interest, of course, but at present we stick to our guns and insist that over-fatigue is an important factor among the leading causes of disease.

ANSWERS TO READER'S QUESTIONS
 R. L. L. Q.—I have been suffering with a gallbladder condition for three years, causing pain in back and under the shoulder blade; also stomach distress. What would you advise other than operation? Would it be dangerous not to have the gall bladder removed under the conditions?

A.—If the condition has not yielded to treatment more drastic measures are necessary. Draining of the gall bladder is sometimes effective. Why not be governed by your doctor's judgment? If the gall bladder is diseased it is causing infection
 in the system.

N. L. Q.—Will drinking cream cause indigestion and heartburn? How long can one live on milk alone?

A.—In a case of intestinal irritation would orange juice as an anti-acid tend to aggravate the trouble?

A.—It will in some cases. This would depend upon the general conditions surrounding the case.
 If this diet is necessary the doctor advising it will give the patient all the necessary information.

2.—Depending upon the type of the trouble.
 Oranges become alkaline in the system and would not tend to aggravate acidity for this reason.

E. L. Q.—Can toxic goitre be cured without operation?
 A.—If you have such a condition you should be under the constant care of a physician.—Copyright, 1923, Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

THREE WHO AGREE.

Three foreign ministers in virtual accord on a much controverted question are seldom seen. The pleasing spectacle is presented by Herr Stresemann in Berlin, Sir Austen Chamberlain in London and M. Briand in Paris. The subject to which they have been speaking is the evacuation of the Rhineland. The German foreign minister informed the visiting of the state of the negotiation and the attitude of the governments concerned, reaching his address in moderate and sensible terms. But he was emphatic in insisting that the time has now come, with Germany restored to her full and equal place in the sisterhood of nations, to call for the freeing of her soil from alien military occupation. Taking up the matter before the house of commons, Foreign Minister Chamberlain contended that, as a pure matter of treaty right,
 Germany is not entitled to demand evacuation.
 Nevertheless, he declared that the British government is anxious to waive the legal point and to bring about the freeing of the entire German territory as soon as possible. In expressing similar sentiments before the French chamber, together with a plea for the complete understanding between France and Germany, M. Briand received the applause of all French political parties.

There is, of course, one condition precedent.
 Evacuation is for the time being tied up with reparations. But the news is positive that this latter question is being placed in the way of a speedy and final settlement. Under the prompting and skillful adjustments of Mr. Parker Gilbert, the reparations commissioner, the appointment of the committee of experts to recommend plans for the final definition and payment of German reparations has been arranged for. They will quickly get to work, and if they are able to report a sound financial and political scheme, the whole question will cease to be burning. In the nature of the case, with the good-will of all parties to the affair being what it is, it is only a question of time when some such comprehensive and happy
 settlement will be reached.—New York Times.

MISREPRESENTING MR. HOOVER'S TOUR.
 Perhaps it was not strange that various French and Spanish newspapers, with or without official inspiration, have interpreted President-Elect Hoover's good-will tour of Latin America as a sort of notice to Europe that the next administration at Washington will maintain an attitude of indifference and aloofness toward that part of the globe and will direct its interest and attention toward its southern neighbors. There is, of course, no ground for such an inference, but to continental political writers speculative license is freely extended.

When, however, some responsible American writers of international problems put the same construction upon Mr. Hoover's trip, declaring that it suggests a non-operation policy toward Europe, the matter challenges serious attention.
 The interpretation in question is more than irrational; it is mischievous.

Mr. Hoover himself has described his visits as friendly calls on neighbors, calls prompted by his desire to get better acquainted with the statesmen of Latin America. To call on a neighbor is not to serve notice of hostility toward some one else. Good will toward Latin America does not imply that an attitude of suspicion or distrust will be taken by the president-elect in dealing with Europe.

Obviously Mr. Hoover's tour of good will can not be made to extend all over the habitable globe,
 or even to a single additional continent. Time, distance and other considerations, including etiquette and the monarchial forms of government in some European countries—precluded such an adventure.

Not one word uttered by Mr. Hoover in his tacit addresses at the receptions tendered him on his present tour has indicated an attempt on his part to array the western world against the eastern,
 or to seek allies against any power or combination of powers. Baseless and harmful misinterpretations of the purpose of his journey
 ought to cease, at least in the United States.—

 off for a dragon of orange juice. Then to bed.

Earl Carroll, incidentally, has microphone arrangement in a private room back stage of his theater which records the emotional reactions of the audience to his show. He is able to loll in a comfortable chair and receive the hot and cold attitudes of audiences
 toward his players and their lines.

On Sixth avenue in the Thirties are innumerable fur shops which remain open until midnight and after and whose windows are filled with marked down furs—from the big minks for wadding ladies to the fox neckpieces for flappers. Each shop seems to go from one type of sale to another and late at night they are quite popular with wistful
 young ladies who plot their boy friends there hopefully, of course.

Furriers are frequently tricked by professional shoplifting ladies who come into their shops wearing imitation furs and exchange them for the real thing. Only recently on Fifth avenue a woman tried on a Russian sable coat worth $25,000 and while the salesman was off guard a moment walked out. She left a coat worth $350. And if I were a fur dealer that would certainly make me mad.

Two plays this season were saved from M.
 Cain's warehouse by smashing lines at the final curtain. This is a new trick in dramatics. Producers have discovered that with this dramatic gesture audiences are likely to forget the tedious drivel preceding.
 In one actor applies an unprintable shocker to a close friend and fellow-worker and the audience departs seemingly convinced it has had a hot evening.

Every Broadway play is timed carefully to run the fixed stage unless until for the good reason a fraction of a minute overtime requires a full hour's pay for the stage crew.
 Given an extra ten seconds has cost producers
 a neat sum.

In one theater the chorus girls have their names painted on the dressing-rooms they occupy and the same theater furnishes their cigarettes free.

If there is anything so melancholy as a

 They are so ghostly that the late C. F. Frohspell of melancholia.

One of the smart cafes now features a "de-

 are forks instead of spoons for almost every-

TO REVEAL NARCOTIC RING SENSATIONS

"Dope" Alliance Ramifications Believed To Extend
All Over World

New York, Dec. 10—Officials of the federal narcotic division backed up today at half a dozen tentacles of a monster drug octopus, a "dope" alliance whose ramifications are believed to extend to the theatrical and political world, and to the large cities of the universe.

Spurred by their seizure of drugs valued at three million dollars on information obtained from the confidential records of Arnold Rothstein, the gambler and alleged financier of an international drug ring, and the arrest of four men and two women in connection with the shipment, the investigators today promised sensational revelations.

The narcotic ring is being probed under direction of United States Attorney Charles H. Tuttle and Col. L. G. Nutt, chief of the federal narcotic division. Colonel Nutt arrived here from Washington last night with Rep. Stephen G. Porter, who was chairman of the American delegation to the Geneva narcotics conference.

Tuttle said a grand jury would convene today and that he expected indictments "before nightfall."

The federal investigators determined on the immediate indictment of Joseph Unger, who held the checks for the trucks containing the $2,600,000 drug shipment seized in New York. Unger, who was pulled from his berth on the Twentieth Century express outside Buffalo on Friday night, will be brought here late today.

SHOOT YOUTH WHEN HE FAILS TO HALT

Cleveland Refuses To Give Up When Policemen
Chase Him

Cleveland, Dec. 10—When Alfred Balzano, 22, ran away from Patrolman Malcolm Sims on the east side here early today and failed to comply with the policeman's command to stop, Sims drew his pistol, shot and fatally wounded the fugitive. Balzano died in a hospital a short time later.

Sims and Patrolman Ralph Kennedy had been called to the neighborhood by residents of the vicinity who reported they had seen a prowler. Balzano was seen a short time later, apparently attempting to hide in a dark, shadowy corner. A protracted chase followed, Balzano failing to heed the shouts of the two officers. Kennedy fired one warning shot into the ground and Sims then shot directly at the fugitive, the bullet striking him in the back.

The victim's father, Frank Balzano, reported that his son was hard of hearing and that he thought he did not understand the officers. Deputy Inspector Stephen Murphy, after a preliminary investigation, early this morning reported that it was his opinion that the shooting was justified.

IRISHMAN, 78, SPENT 53 YEARS AS SOLDIER

New Orleans, La.—No one would ever think, from his name or from his face, that Michael Duggan came from anywhere but County Cork, in Ireland.

And no one would have a mistake about his being a fighting man, which he is. Michael arrived recently in New Orleans to spend the winter.

Seventy-eight years old, Michael has spent 53 of them as a professional warrior, wearing the drab uniforms of the King of England and of the United States onto a hundred or more battlefields. He has fought because he loves it.

Michael has 16 medals to show you, and a bunch of citations you couldn't carry in a bag.

He would settle down now, Michael says, if he wasn't "such a restless sort of cuss." He will settle down one day, he promises, but he wants to be in a few more fights first.

URGE AUTOS TO CARRY RED FLAG FOR SAFETY

Boston, Mass.—Every automobile should carry a red flag, according to Capt. George A. Parker, registrar of motor vehicles. The flag would be used in case of accident, much the same as a railroad brakeman uses a similar flag to stop approaching trains in case of accident.

however, about the use of red flags is that the accident happens at night.

Morrow County Shipping Company Holds Annual Session at Mt. Gilead

Mt. Gilead, Dec. 10.—Members of the Morrow County Cooperative Shipping Co. held their annual meeting in the high school building here Saturday, serving a dinner at 12 o'clock to nearly 200 members and others. A forenoon and afternoon session was held in the schools here, J. S. Brown, president of the local organization, presiding.

In the morning the reports of the various departments of the Shipping Association were given. The following figures were revealed for the year beginning Dec. 1, 1927 to Nov. 30, 1928: Pounds of livestock shipped, 30,192; number of shippers, 2,157; total sales, $201,900.30; total income, $1,196.50 consisting of $3,510.30 between the total sales and the $118,200.00 netted to shippers plus other income of $356.20. The report showed the expense of the association for the year to be $7,117.57. Total assets were listed at $3,058.13 and total liabilities at $1,940.30. The total net worth was listed at $2,078.83, which added to the liabilities, makes a total of $1,058.13.

Some Directors.

Two directors were elected in the morning session. They were W. L. Purday, of Mt. Gilead, and C. H. Sellers, of . . . who were re-elected as directors of the Morrow county association.

Music for the morning and afternoon sessions was furnished by the local orchestra of Williamsport.

The first speaker of the afternoon session was W. W. Hummons, of the department of rural economy at Ohio State university, who talked on the causes of . . .

. . . had twice as many . . . and three times the number of . . . for marketing, diseases, abrasions and disease which occurs on the farm before shipping accounts for much of this, the speaker said.

J. W. Wulcher, hog specialist at Ohio State university, continued Mr.

Hummons' speech by telling the members how to evade these heavy losses by proper feeding and management. He explained that Ohio hogs were greatly due to the confinement of Ohio swine, making them more susceptible to disease of every kind. He explained that hogs from areas where the cattle were all tuberculin tested had not been tested. Those from tested areas are marked with tattoo marks to identify them. He also blamed many parasites, not killers, but those that decrease the vitality for heavy losses.

He demonstrated mixing protein and mineral supplements for feed and gave formulas, easily made by any farmer, for supplements, which are much cheaper yet which have the food value of mixtures bringing high prices. His formula for protein supplement was: 2 parts tankage, 1 part linseed oil, and 1 part alfalfa meal, by weight. He said this was cheaper and a better food than the pure tankage. His mineral supplement was: 2 parts fine limestone, 2 parts bone meal of a per-phosphate fertilizer, and 1 part salt by weight. He claimed these were as satisfactory as high priced feeds.

District Meet Feb. 11

A. F. Potter, manager of the Cleveland Cooperative Producers' Association, of which the local organization is a branch, discussed market conditions and causes of the changes of market prices.

This district of the cooperative association, which is made up of about 10 or 12 counties, will hold their district meet in Mt. Gilead Feb. 11, 11.

L. Hazler, county agent announced. The initiative was extended some time ago, and accepted. Several hundred leaders of the cooperative shipping associations of the district are expected to be present and many prominent state men of the organization are expected to speak. At this meeting some of the districts will elect their director for the Cleveland association. T. M. Carmean is the director of the Cleveland association from Morrow county.

WELFARE WORK IN OHIO IS ATTACKED

Report Declares County Activities Handled in Haphazard Manner

Columbus, Dec. 10.—County welfare work in Ohio was ripped today in a forthcoming report of the Ohio state which declares this work is frequently handled in a haphazard, slipshod manner, and seriously needs reorganization. The report is based on an intensive study of county welfare administration in the state, according to a statement preceding the report.

In spite of its importance, the statement says, county welfare work is utterly haphazard and decentralized. The report will point out that charitable and correctional activities are split up among a half dozen bodies and that there is no single agency in a position to plan a county welfare program, or to supervise and direct welfare activities. It gives one body handling blind relief, another soldiers' relief, a third mothers' pensions and a fourth operating the children's home, with a fifth controlling the county home.

In 1927 Ohio counties spent about $3,000,000 for charities and corrections and $1,000,000 for hospitalization, according to the statement which further asserted that highway work alone exceeds welfare administration in volume of county expenditures. Ohio Institute investigators in one county found two persons, who were receiving blind relief, attending a movie show, the report says, and another county had a woman in the county home whose daughter was worth $100,000. Many other similar instances were disclosed.

McKEE GIVEN NEW POST IN AIR CORPS

Norton Field Commandant, Well Known Here, Assigned to Washington

Announcement that Lieut. Frank McKee, commandant at Norton field, Columbus, has been transferred to a position in the office of the chief of air corps at Washington, D. C., is of special interest in Marion, where he is well known as the result of visits here in the last few months.

Several months ago McKee came to Marion on invitation from the Junior Chamber of Commerce and assisted in selecting the site for the local airport. It was stated that his recommendation had much to do with securing the land west of Marion for the landing field.

Notice that McKee had been ordered to report for duty in Washington was received in Columbus, Saturday.

He will be succeeded as commandant at Norton field by Lieut. Adolphus B. McConnell, of Langley field.

McKee has been in charge of Norton field the last three years. He is a veteran aviator. Feb. 17, next year, will mark the close of 10 years of service in the army and navy aerial service.

The change of commandants at Norton field is expected to take place within the next week.

BOARD CONTINUES HEARING ON DITCH

Hearing on the Berry-Gooding ditch in Pleasant township was continued by the board of county commissioners from last Saturday to March 23. Opposition of a number of land owners to means of constructing the ditch as petitioned for, is said to have been responsible for continuing the hearing.

PERFUME CHANGES WITH EACH GOWN; NEWEST SCENT CALLED "LE MATIN"

PARIS, Dec. 10—In picking accessories to go with the winter costume, it is wise to remember that chic women nowadays change their perfume as often as their costume, according to the hour of the day.

A delightful new scent for morning is called "Le Matin" (the morning) and is a very fresh odor, put up in an attractive bottle evidently inspired by the skyscraper architecture. It is housed in a green and gold box.

It is quite the same with jewelry. Certain designs are intended for certain hours. A bracelet for street or sports wear is made of several strands of silk cord to match or harmonize with the costume, with several round slides of semiprecious stones of the same color and little bands of rhinestones.

SUBDUED COLORS IN STYLE FOR WINTER, DRESSMAKERS DECLARE

PARIS, Dec. 10—Subdued colors will be the most stylish this winter, according to last minute notes from the fashion-makers in Paris. This means, last-minute for winter, of course, inasmuch as they are all very busy getting ready to show their spring creations at the present moment and have left winter fancies behind.

There is no doubt that black is the favorite, but this means black very much varied by the use of different textures which reminds one in no manner of anything mournful. Very often another with a bill of the same stones dangling at the end.

Long earrings for afternoon wear come in crystal baguettes with an emerald or sapphire every now and again. There are also long chains of crystal baguettes with a pendant composed of rhinestones and crystal at one end.

Black powder puffs are the newest ones at one of the smart perfumers. They really are not black, but a dark shade of brown to use with those dark mauve and ochre powders.

The tiny linen handkerchiefs which can be tucked into the wrist of the long sleeve or in the pocket of the new coat without making it bulge, comes in many different designs. The little squares of bright linen match the gown or its trimmings.

color is added as well to cheer up the effect.

A great deal of blue is also going to be worn this winter, in costumes composed of a dark blue coat matched in the hat and worn with a frock of lighter tone.

Brown is used in the same way. A coat of dark brown cloth or velvet trimmed with brown fur and worn with a dress of brown crepe de Chine or of a lighter shade of brown silk, is very smart. In every case that but matches the coat in color.

Grey is a very exclusive subdued shade for the winter coat. Lucile new grey diagonals trimmed with the same tone in grey astrakhan.

For warmish days in winter, of which Paris can boast out a few, there is a symphony in mellowed green and subdued gray. The latter appears in the blouse which is flat and narrow with its neck rounded by some tiny tucks which just skim the level of the waistline. The green makes the jacket with diagonal tucks sub-on sleeves and skirt.

FIREMEN RESPOND TO THREE ALARMS

Heating Equipment Cause of Fires at Homes Here; Damage Slight

Three alarms were answered by local fire companies over the weekend. Loss totalling 225 resulted in two of the fires.

Flames from the chimney set fire to the roof at the home of Mrs. Luella Herlihy, 421 West Church st., at 3:58 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Fire companies No. 1 and No. 2 answered the alarm.

When Miss Starling Woods, 831 1/2 Bennett st., used coal oil to start a fire in a stove, a blaze resulted at 5:30 o'clock Saturday night. The can of coal oil burst into flames and Miss Woods threw it out on the porch, where it scorched the wall of the house. Damage was estimated at $15 and was covered by insurance. Fire company No. 2 answered the alarm.

An overheated strip of asbestos pipe covering started smoldering and was reported by William Hayden, 221 South Prospect st., at 10 o'clock Sunday morning. Firemen from the central station answered the alarm in Fire Chief McFarland's car. The smoldering strip of asbestos was torn off. No damage resulted.

RESTS MAY CLEAR OHIO ROBBERY RING

ot Valued at $6,000 Recovered When Police Raid Homes

in, Dec. 10—With Frank and Moffet, alias Frank and Lester Coates, under arrest here today, authorities in seven counties in northwestern Ohio, searched for two other members of an alleged "robber ring," which has been operating in this section of the state since last September.

The capture of the men Saturday night, which resulted in the recovery of loot valued at $6,000, taken by the men during their activities, was effected by police after two homes were raided here. Alleged confessions to police by the captured men, stalled participation in the robbery and named the two other members in the gang.

Stores at Arcadia, Bettsville, Alvada, Braden, Genoa, Gibsonburg, New Riegel, Rising Sun, West Independence and Woodville are said to have been burglarized, according to the confession.

Operations were carried on by stealing automobiles in Fostoria and in smaller towns and the loot brought back here, according to police.

Sheriff Cal Shue of Sandusky county took Lester Moffet to Fremont Sunday to answer charges of taking $2,000 of goods Thursday night from the Gibsonburg general store.

Santa Claus demands added service of the Men of the Big Four

THE Christmas holidays are rush days for the thousands of Big Four men who will be busy at their posts while the world makes merry.

Increased travel and the heavy movement of goods and gifts place added responsibilities on their shoulders. On trains that are re-uniting families for the Christmas feast, and in busy ticket offices, in yards and signal towers, and out along the right of way, every Big Four man is alert to his duty.

It is a railroad tradition that service never stops. Trains must be kept moving. Pride in their railroad and pride in their work spur Big Four men every day of the year to the kind of teamwork that maintains the high standards of service of New York Central Lines.

Let's Be Reasonable

Suppose you receive a box of candy for Christmas; and suppose you have company; and suppose you want to pass the box around; and suppose that the candy comes from one of those cheap candy counters that sell for a price (for we all know that good candy does not sell cheap). Would you or would you not feel embarrassed to see that the company is wise to it, and then you begin thinking: Was it a joke that So and So have sent to you that junk, as we often say.

Then you would vow that the next time you buy candy, for yourself or to give away, the least that you can do is buy good candy, and if you cannot afford it buy less of it; but, when you do, you will not be embarrassed.

At TENDER'S you will find that you can shop for your candy with the assurance that they're fresh, being made right in their own shops. They're pure and rich in minerals and vitamins. They're packed in artistic packages that you will not be ashamed to send to the most dignified person.

Do your Christmas shopping wisely by going to

EMORY STUDENTS HAVE BUREAU OFFERING BLOOD

Atlanta, Ga.—Something unique in medical annals, at least in these parts, has been established at Emory university here. It is a "blood bureau."

Because of the constant demand for the blood of students to supply hospital transfusion cases, a group of students who go in for that sort of thing have been registered and classified as to the quality of their blood. They are available day or night, since all local hospitals have their names and addresses.

Hollywood is much amused to learn that M-G-M is making sound tests of roaring lions. According to the story, this company wants its lion trademark to burst into sound. To this end, tests are being made of roaring. Only, it is said, a roar in celluloid lacks the virility of a jungle ditto, but, undaunted, tests are still being made.

Jimmy Gleason has a play "other eve" and a Russian wrote especially for Muni. "It's called 'The Merchant of Manhattan' and it's delicious. Ritzy Rosalie

ROSALIE's golden curls have such an annoying habit of getting in the way when she is applying cosmetics or powder to her face, that the new headband which she wears is quite a relief. The tennis court is not the only place headbands are welcome and this boudoir headband is not only a great help, but, being made of rubberized silk of various shades, it is quite attractive. SEGRAVE INVITED TO TRY FOR NEW RECORD

Jacksonville, Fla.—Efforts are being made to bring Maj. H. O. D. Segrave, London, former holder of the world's automobile speed record, here in January to try for a new record.

Segrave was this holder of a mark of 105 miles an hour made in 1927 on the beach course at Daytona Beach. The mark was broken last March by Roy Keesh and a new one of 207.55 miles an hour established by him.

Local "business" men want the English driver to bring his machine to Jacksonville Beach, on the Atlantic ocean near here. They are conducting negotiations now with Segrave's American manager.

FLYING STENOGRAPHERS IN SATISFACTORY TEST

Chicago—Flying typists are efficient, according to the American Air Transport association, which reports two stenographers recently completed a 200-mile trip during which they took dictation.

Neither of the typists had flown before but the work they turned out, actually typing letters while flying, following the dictation, was entirely satisfactory.

GERMAN CAPITAL HAS MORE FOREIGN VISITORS

Berlin—October saw more strangers in Berlin than did September, according to the municipal bureau of statistics, the total number reaching 135,212 against 149,180 in the preceding month. Of the 21,427 foreigners 2,830 came from America—the greatest contingent furnished by any one country. The number of foreign guests was 21 per cent greater than in October, 1927.

TAKE OLD PORTRAITS DOWN FROM WALLS

Asheville, N. C.—The Republicans are coming, and the faces of North Carolina's great ones are to be taken from their sight.

Pictures of Zebulon Baird Vance, Civil war governor of North Carolina, and of other pioneers have been removed from the Hanesboro county court room, where they have hung for generations.

Mrs. Charles Malcolm Platt removed the pictures. She summed up the reason neatly:

"I'm taking them out because I refuse to have pictures of any of my Democratic ancestors hung in a Republican citadel, such as this is about to become."

Hanesboro county recently gave the Democrats the shock of their lives by going Republican along with the rest of the state.

MANY GAMES ON CAGE PROGRAM

INDUSTRIAL LEAGUE TEAMS WILL PLAY AT STAR TONIGHT

Kenton Reds To Face Eagles on Auditorium Floor Wednesday

BY KARI, R. McLEOD
Sports Editor, The Star

With Industrial league teams and Harding high school opening their seasons, Marion followers of the cage game will be in for one of the busiest weeks of sport this year. Games are scheduled for Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights on local courts with the Industrial league tonight. Wednesday night the Kenton Reds will play Marion's Eagles while Harding takes on Columbus West Friday night. The St. Mary's five will play its second game at the Y M C A against the Alumni One, one local team is scheduled to appear outside the city. That is the Central Junior five who will play the Marysville Reserves.

Three Games Tonight

Three contests will open the Industrial league play tonight. Organization of the league was completed several weeks ago and since that time teams have been going through hard practice sessions in preparation for the opening fray.

The league is composed of six teams made up of players from two or more industrial concerns of the city. This plan, adopted this season, is expected to make the league teams more evenly matched promoting interest in the sport.

The first contest will get under way at 7:30 o'clock with the Wilcox Industrial General Executive team playing C. D. & M-Kempus. Other games scheduled are: Puentes (College Valley) vs. Oswood and Power Hocking Valley vs. Steam Shovel.

Reds Hard For Marion

After successfully weathering their first contest with the Blues Collegians last week, the Marion Eagles have settled down for a tough contest in Star auditorium Wednesday night. The Kenton Reds have always been a hard aggregation for Marion teams to beat in the past but the Eagles are expected to come out on top. A close game is being predicted, however.

Coch Compton's Red and Black basketballers will be in for a hard battle in Friday night's contest on the star floor. The totals play Columbus

HE'LL LEAD 1929 YALE TEAM

W. W. (Lippo) Greene of Huntington, Pa., has been elected captain of the Yale football team for 1929. He plays left guard and is only member of Old Yale's squad to be mentioned in experts as an outstanding player during the season just closed.

West Harding's cage squad is still more what of an unknown quantity. McVinch will be the only letterman from last season's squad to start the game. The balance of the team is rather inexperienced. Marion's hopes for a state championship will be small and light. Speed and an outright defense will be Harding's only hope this season.

Fresh Play Alumni

The Irish, out for clean record this season, may receive a setback in the contest against the Alumni at the Y. Friday night. Last week the locals won their opener with Sacred Heart of Columbus, 31 to 10.

Central Junior got off to a rather unfortunate start this year taking a one-sided wallop from the powerful Alumni aggregation. The team is being pointed to the Marysville Reserves for the Union county court Friday night.

Numerous other games are scheduled this week by amateur teams.

TRADE WINDS BLOW AS NATIONAL TEAMS OPEN ANNUAL MEET

John Heydler Will Be Re-elected for Five Years as President

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Trade winds were blowing briskly through the lobby of the Waldorf Astoria today as the annual National League meeting got under way. Every club is trying to make its bones for the coming campaign and according to some rumors, at least five big deals are pending.

While the magnates were scheduled to select President John Heydler for five years and possibly to increase his present salary of $25,000, the managers in the trading marts renewed the annual sport of trying to get something for nothing.

The Chicago Cubs would like to grab a hard hitting third baseman but their overtures are meeting with a chilly reception. The other contenders fear that the Braves already have the 1929 big league tied with the acquisition of Hornsby, and will do nothing to strengthen the McCarthy meliorist further if they can avoid it.

John McGraw of the Giants might easily be persuaded to make a trade for Lou Gehrig of the Reds for Lou Gehrig (think Jackson) or catcher. Bob O'Farrell would look right smart in a Cincinnati uniform as trading material. Hendricks might offer anybody on the club with the exception of Clegg and Lucas.

Pittsburgh, with shortstop Wright and George Gurnham on the block, is casting covetous eyes at Jess Phillips, Brooklyn southpaw, upon whom Boston and Chicago also have designs. The Pirates also need an infielder.

Sam Houston of the Cardinals could stand another pitcher or two, but what he would offer in return is not known. Houston started the ball rolling on Saturday when he sent Cincinnati and Harper to a year's confinement in Boston.

Hendon says Frank Fitch will not be traded. He plans to use the veteran at third base next year, with Ralph former Houstoner, attempting to fill the baser's shoes at second and Charles Gilbert, up from Rochester at short.

Budge Hall Enche, owner of the Boston Braves, is reported to be debating whether he wants George Kelly, part time Cincinnati first baseman, badly enough to cough up outfielder Lance Hichbourgh in exchange.

The Braves, the Robins and the Phillies are standing on the deck of the trading mart like Kaituma's in a card game. Whilst trying with one hand to snare diamonds from the decks of the more fortunate players, they are desperately endeavoring to hold on with the other to what promising material they have.

SHARKEY-DE KUH AFFAIR TONIGHT IS HARD ON PROMOTERS

Fight May Be Repetition of Hanson-Christner Disaster in Cleveland

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Jack Sharkey, the retrained, distant young man from Boston, will be returned to circulation up in his home town for a 10 round frolic with Arthur de Kuh tonight and Tex Rickard and his directors of Madison Square Garden probably aren't casually interested. They are scared stupid. For all they know, Mr. Sharkey may be faking to enact another Hanson-Christner disaster.

They got the tidings on that one only a few days ago and expect to recover with kindness and tender care. It completely eliminated one of the hand men before the heavyweight elimination event could start doing big things in a big way and, while they had realized that Hanson had one of the most docile chins in all pugilism, they felt they had reason to expect slightly more, a willfulness than this. Besides, they had wanted to have it for a handful of knuckles that could be used to further advance, meaning theirs.

So, they tremble for Sharkey to day and for several reasons, one of which is that they would like to keep him, as is, against the possibility that he could be tossed in there next summer with Dempsey in order to take the rap of the Tunney Heeney defeat. Another reason is that de Kuh really can hit and sometimes does and a third that Sharkey hasn't been in three months for upward of five months. Mr. Sharkey could have picked himself a tougher spot but not without getting terribly conscientious about it.

Ordinarily, de Kuh doesn't belong in the same building with Sharkey. I am not convinced that the latter is quite the bold hero he claims himself to be but de Kuh is actually a morose. In addition he is a stand-up fighter and those kind are always a mark for a swifter like Sharkey. The latter would win in the early minutes of play, if his preparation for the fight was adequate. It wasn't.

Out for a protracted period with a wrenched knee, things is certain to suffer. He won't know just how much or little the injured knee will stand. He won't know as much about fighting as he will several months hence. One of the worst performances Sharkey ever made was against Heeney last winter. He didn't but a fight in six months.

Fortunately, de Kuh isn't Heeney. But if he finds Sharkey can hurt him, he might be better than Heeney ever could hope to be. Heeney's trouble is that he can't fight much, de Kuh's that he won't. Still, with things as they are, Sharkey should have an interesting evening.

If you are a law officer, you have got to go on with the work that was launched on a way of popular indignation after the indignation has subsided.

Hugh Shults Has Chance To Make Basketball Team

SPRINGFIELD, Dec. 10.—Five letter men, a promising crew of sophomores and a schedule of 19 contests are some of the things Cooper Leslie Godfrey and Joe Hermann have in mind as they prepare Wittenberg college basketball men for the season of 1929.

The Lutheran mentors by shifting positions, could pick an all letterman line from the returning veterans. Captain Joe Keyser of Richmond, Ind., All Ohio forward John Brodus of Newark O. forward and halfback of the champion grid team, Homer Knotta of Westerville, O. forward Red Maurer of New Philadelphia, O. guard and football quarterback and Cecil Grist of Lawrenceville, O. guard are the available men who have earned letters in the cage sport.

But it is hardly likely that a combination with that personnel will form Wittenberg's regular quintet. There are too many capable sophomores who will be out for variety plays.

Alex Kish of Bucyrus, football end who plays forward but has height enough for the center post, "Dope" Creager, Toledo forward, Ilmarin Hendrick Dover guard, Bill England of Detroit, guard Hugh Shults, Marion guard and Willie of Struthers who also plays a guard position, will

New York Dec. 10.—O. C. Eyle has found entry blanks for his second transcontinental foot race. Instead of running against the sun as was the order last year the start will be made in New York and the athletes will finish the grind in Los Angeles. The race will start here on March 31 and will more than likely to look over the same course as was used last year.

Ohio Bar Association Pledges Its Support to Habitual Criminal Act

State Legislature Will Get Proposal Which Specifies Series of Crimes; Would Change Insanity Law, Refusing Freedom to Slayings Who Escape on Plea

Outstanding among recommendations which the Ohio bar association will make to the general assembly after the first of the year, seeking radical revisions in the criminal code, and a bolstering up of the criminal law, will be an habitual criminal act, new provisions governing pleas of insanity, and the substitution of information for indictments in many cases.

Quite likely, the habitual criminal act will be presented to the lawmakers independently of the proposed new criminal code.

However, such a law will be a radical departure in criminal jurisprudence in Ohio, and therefore is worthy of some attention. The act which a committee of the state bar association has drawn, is held to be a vast improvement over the fourth offense act of Michigan, and the business law of New York. Measures of this sort provide for life imprisonment upon the fourth conviction for any felony.

The state bar association, in drafting its habitual criminal act, has taken a distinct forward step in specifying naming the felonies to come under provisions of the proposed law. These will include the crimes of violence, and other felonies of a grave nature.

Cuts Down Gangsters
Michigan's fourth offender act and New York's business law have been widely praised for aiding in reduction of the numbers of gangsters and other dangerous persons at large in those states.

The language of the proposed habitual criminal act for Ohio follows:

"A person hereafter convicted in this state of robbery, pocket-picking, burglary, or burglary of an inhabited dwelling, voluntary manslaughter, assuult to kill, rob or rape, cutting, stabbing or shooting to kill or wound, forcible rape or rape of a child under 12 years of age, incest, forgers, larceny of property of the value of more than $25, stealing a motor vehicle, or receiving stolen goods to the value of more than $25, perjury, kidnapping or child-stealing, who shall have been previously two times convicted of any of the heretofore specified felonies separately prosecuted and tried therefor, either in this state, or elsewhere, shall be adjudged an habitual criminal, and upon conviction for such third offense, shall be sentenced by the court to a term equal to the maximum statutory penalty for the offense charged; provided that such convictions shall not result from, nor be connected with the same transaction, nor result from a series of offenses committed at or about the same time.

"A person hereafter convicted in this state of any of the offense in the next preceding section specified, who shall have been previously convicted three times of any of the said offenses, either in this state or elsewhere, upon such conviction for such fourth offense, shall be sentenced to imprisonment in a state prison for the term of his or her natural life, subject to the provisions of the next preceding section."

The proposed revisions concerning pleas of insanity which the criminal code to go to the legislature will take into consideration, were drawn from the recent George Remus case, which proved the difficulty of committing to state hospitals persons pleading insanity as a defense in connection with murder and offenses of that caliber. These proposed revisions meet with the approval of hospital heads throughout the state who come into constant contact with characters of the type the revisions are intended to curb.

CHIC EVENING FROCK

Here is an evening gown made especially for that old-fashioned girl. It is of sheer, soft silk with a trailing design of rhinestones about the snug bodice and bouffant skirt. A bow of rose ribbon appears on the left hip, matching the satin slippers with ornamental buckles.

The type the revisions are intended to curb.
The proposed provisions, in substance follows:
"When a defendant pleads 'not guilty by reason of insanity' and is acquitted on the sole ground of insanity, it shall be presumed that such insanity continues, and the accused shall be confined in the Ohio state hospital, and shall not be released from such confinement until the judge of the court of common pleas of Allen county, Ohio, the superintendent of the hospital, and an alienist designated by the judge and approved by the jury, or the majority of them, find and deem the said accused has been restored to sanity, and his release will not be dangerous."

With a view of saving time, further cutting red tape and reducing the amount of grand jury work, it also will be recommended that Ohio voters amend the constitution to permit "information" to be substituted for grand jury indictments in many cases. The prosecuting attorney would prepare these "information." The accused, under the proposed alterations, could waive his right of trial by jury and be tried in open court without a jury. Under the proposed constitutional amendment, the grand jury would be summoned to meet at least once a year in each county in the state.

A more appropriate gift could not be selected for wife or mother, and no finer washer than the Maytag is made. In both quality and performance, the Maytag reflects the superior facilities of the world's largest washer factory.

The seamless, cast-aluminum tub and gyrofoam action, which revolutionized washing speed and thoroughness; the new-type Roller Water Remover, so safe, handy, efficient and careful; the silent, precision-cut steel gears; these and other Maytag qualities give it unmatched value, make it the perfect gift.

Each Maytag receives 544 factory inspections to assure uniformity of that quality and performance which a gift of this nature should possess.
